POLICY

All graduate students who wish to continue to have access to university services and resources must register for at least one graduate-level credit. In all circumstances, students must enroll for at least one graduate credit during the semester they wish to earn a graduate degree.

RATIONALE

Graduate students who are not enrolled often hope to continue to work on their remaining degree program requirements, and to secure library privileges, IT services, consultation with faculty advisors, etc. This policy is intended to have students contribute to the funding of these services through tuition and fees associated with the credit(s) they enroll in.
